Social and Personal

A VERY pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday at high noon in the May Memorfal Church, Powhatan Courthouse, Va., when Miss Jane Lucile Ligon, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ligon, and niece of Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Tucker, became the bride of William Keeble Davis, son of T. J. Davis, Superintendent of the State Farm. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. St. George Tucker Abrams, of Powhatan county, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nannie Rennolds played the Wedding March from "Lohengrin" at the entry of the bridal party, and Mendelssohn's as a recessional. The color scheme in the church decreations was green and white, and the altar was massed with paims and ferns

House, and Loses His Life.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

South Hill, Va., July 12.—News reached here this morning of the burning last night of the home of Robert Tucker, at Hollydale, Lunenburg county. The fire was discovered between 9 and 10 o'clock by Mr. Tucker and his wife, and they escaped from the building, but later Mr. Tucker attempted to reach a room on the second floor for the purpose of securing a trunk. That was the last his horror-stricken wife sver saw of him, and it is supposed that he was surfocated and was unable to get out before the building was consumed, as there was no one present to render help. The body was burned to a crisp when recovered about 11 o'clock.

BOUND OVER TO U. S. COURT.

Apex Merchaut Charged With Mailing Anonymous Letters in That Town. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., July 12.—Charged with mailing anonymous letters, containing insinuations against women in some of the best families of the town, W. H. Rounsaville, a merchant of Apex. this county, was bound over in a $1,000 justified bond to the next term of United States District Court here today by United States Commissioner John Nichols. These letters have been disturbing the social and family peace and quietude of Apex and vicinity for a year or more, and efforts to identify the author have failed. Now, however, the citizens have gotten together compared notes, and are asserting that Rounsaville is guilty. They have letters that indicate the identity of the handwriting. Fifteen citizens called on him a month ago, it seems, and warned him to leave town. He refused, and this indictment is the sequel. Rounsaville claims to have received anonymous letters himself similar to those he is charged with writing. He has retained ex-Governor Aycock for his defense.

PULASKI NAMES DELEGATES.

County Convention Indoreses Tott and Instructs for Slemp.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Pulaski, Va., July 12.—The Republicans of Pulaski county held a massmeeting here this afternoon, and elected twenty-six delegates to the district convention, which meets at Abingdon next Wednesday to nominate a candidate for Congress. The meeting was a tame affair, and lasted only a few moments.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing the Taft administration, commending Slemp's course in Congress, and instructing the delegates to vote as a vanit for his renomination.

Postmaster E. V. Jameson, of Pulaski, was po-elected county chafrman. This winds up the election of delegates in the district, Pulaski being the last county to act.
